

Table of Contents

Preface	ii
Acknowledgements.....	iii
Table of Contents.....	v
Workshop Contributions.....	1
 A Few Theoretical Elements on Legal Institutional and Sociological Issues in Waters & Politics, Bernard Barraqué	3
 Bridging the Gaps Between Technical and Political: Training Senior Water Managers what they need to know about Conflict Management, Consensus Building and Participation, Jerry Delli Priscoli	5
 Water, Wine, Vinegar, Blood: on Politics, Participation, Violence and Conflict over the Hydrosocial Contract, Jeroen Warner	7
 The Emergence of Sustainable and Participatory Development in Dams. Lessons from Political Science Research, Stéphane La Branche	19
 Packaging Policies as a Vehicle for Reforming the Water Sector: the Case of the Californian drought and the Central Valley Project Improvement Act, Itay Fischhendler and David Ziberman	31
 “Liable but not Guilty”: The Political Use of Circumstances in a River Basin Council (Mexico), Eric Mollard and Sergio Vargas Velázquez	39
 An Assessment of Strategic Issues in the Policy Field Relating to Water Resource Management in Southern Africa, Anthony Turton	51
 Contending Approaches to Water Disputes in Transboundary Rivers: What can International Relations Discipline Offer?, Ayşegül Kibaroglu	71
 Dam Debates Challenging French River-Basin Participatory Planning: A “Negotiated Public Action” Perspective, Sophie Allain	83
 Political Structure and ‘Dam’ Conflicts: Comparing Cases in Southeast Asia, Ashok Swain and Ang Ming Chee	95
 Governance and Water Management in Asia: What do we need to Learn?, Stephen Tyler	115
 Forces Behind Accepting / Rejecting Water pricing, Raouf F. Khouzam	117
 The Politics of Multi-Stakeholder Partnerships for Water and Sanitation: The Significance and Worth of the World Summit Type Two Partnerships, Amy Stewart	125
 The Politics of Water in the Mekong Region: the Case of Yunnan Hydropower Expansion, John Dore and Yu Xiaogang	145

“The Importance of the Ecoregion Sierra-Costa of Chiapas and the Water and Nature Initiative in The Tacana Volcano with the UICN”, Froilán Esquinca Cano	157
Towards Good Water Governance in Tanzania: Lessons and Desired Action, Raphael Burra and Peter Kangwa	163
Water Politics in the Volta Basin – Defusing Conflict, Risks and Promoting Bilateral Cooperation through Informed Dialogue and Negotiations, Kwame Odame-Ababio	165
Introducing Political Issues in the Debate on Water Resources Planning in Tunisia: a Necessity for the Implementation of Water Demand Management Policies, Sébastien Treyer	171
The Silent Revolution of Groundwater Intensive use and its Influence in Spain, Juan M^a Fornés, África de la Hera and M. Ramón Llamas	183
Parliamentarians Role In Water Management: Water And Politics In the South Caucasus, Anna Gekht	197
Le niveau pertinent pour la gestion des services d'eau et d'assainissement, René Coulomb	201
Is Water Policy Responding To Rural Preferences? A Choice Experiment Of Household Water Priorities In South Africa, Hope R.A and Garrod G.D	207
Hydropolitics: An Overview With Special Focus on the Frakka Barrage, Mohammad Ehteshamul Hoque	219
Thousand years of Hydraulic Civilization Some sociotechnical aspects of water management, H.A.H Jayanesa and John S. Selker	225
Paradigmatic Change in the Indonesian Irrigation Development in Disarray, Mochammad Maksum	239
Unbundling ‘Lack of Access’ to Water in Rural India, Nayanika Mathur	249
Water and Related Energy Politics in the Syrdarya Basin: Current Challenges and Future Prospects, Anatoliy Sorokin, Larisa Averina and Bakhtiyor Mukhamadiev	257
Appendix 1: What should be next? – Ideas and suggestions.....	265
Appendix 2: Programme.....	269
Appendix 3: List of Participants.....	273